My dear Robert, After my death, and when you have got the letter of your pecuniary difficulties upon this place, it is my desire that the sum of nine hundred pounds now in your hands should then be disposed of in the following manner To your sister Mrs Addison the sum of One hundred pounds, to Barbara One hundred pounds, to Catherine One hundred pounds, and after discharging all funeral expenses & the remaining sum which will not much exceed three hundred I would recommend you to settle on your sister Janet, as she is not so well provided for as your other sisters. The furniture which was in my house in Edin^g I had already settled upon your sisters and in the event of their taking up house for themselves, they would require a sum equal to the value of said furniture. All the furniture bought at Col. Munro's sale I got on purpose for your house. It is all I have in my power to offer you for all your kindness to me. I trust you will approve of this my last desire with regard to the disposal of the money in your hands. Most of it arose from the sale of the house in Dundee, and which house was long ago settled upon your sisters.

I know I have only a very few hundred that I had really any claim to as my own but your sisters may value this small remembrance as a proof of my affection. - I have nothing to offer my sons from whom I have received every affectionate attention, but my blessing and my sincere prayers that the Almighty may bless them which is above every earthly good. My Dear Robert while life is granted me I ever am your affectionate mother. - (signed) M. Scott
